Wheatstone Project Update

January 31, 2014

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

Platform Construction

- At the DSME yard in Okpo, Korea, all primary decks of the topsides are structurally complete (left). The steel gravity structure (right) has left the dry dock and the erection of the final blocks has commenced.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

LNG Plant Site

- Fill continues to be brought from nearby borrow pits to raise the site level.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

Material Offloading Facility

- At the Material Offloading Facility (MOF), works on the south and east quays, off-loading ramps, utility corridors and breakwater construction are more than 50 percent complete, and the first material shipments are expected shortly.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

Piling Works Continue to Progress at the LNG Plant Site

- To date, approximately 9,500 of 23,000 piles have been driven for the foundations of LNG Train 1 and 2, the LNG storage and condensate tanks, and marine infrastructure.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

Piling Works Continue to Progress at the LNG Plant Site

- Piling works continue for the foundations of the two LNG storage tanks (left), while construction of the refrigeration compressor foundations for LNG Train 1 progress.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

LNG Plant Site: Water Facilities

- The water facilities, which will support Wheatstone's water requirements throughout the primary construction phase, are nearing completion.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

Construction Workforce Accommodation Facilities

- At the construction village, there is capacity to house approximately 3,800 workers onsite.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.

Social Infrastructure: Onslow Airport

- Onslow Airport is now supporting 18 flights per week, and construction of the new terminal is well under way.

© 2014 Chevron Corporation. All rights reserved.