

corporate responsibility reporting

we're committed to demonstrating our values and getting results the right way

view the 2017 corporate responsibility report highlights >

prioritizing issues for our reporting

Our corporate responsibility reporting focuses on environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues that matter to our business and our stakeholders – investors, customers, host governments, local communities and employees. To select the content for our 2018 Corporate Responsibility Report Highlights and the corporate responsibility section of chevron.com, we interviewed subject matter experts from across our business segments to identify and validate relevant ESG topics. In addition, Chevron worked with a research firm that conducted anonymous surveys of institutional investors, nongovernmental organization (NGOs) and other external stakeholders. Both groups of stakeholders identified the same issues highlighted in the previous year's report. Chevron's Global Issues Committee, a subcommittee of Chevron's Executive Committee, reviewed and validated our assessment and prioritization.

To learn more about the ESG issues that matter to our stakeholders and our business:

environment

Protecting the environment: We protect the environment through innovative and responsible operations

Addressing climate change: We take prudent and cost-effective actions to manage climate change business risks and pursue opportunities to lower our emissions and develop lower-carbon energy.

Managing water resources: Water is a societal, environmental and economic resource.

social

Valuing diversity and inclusion: Our people are our most valuable resource.

Creating prosperity: We believe our business succeeds best when our communities succeed too.

Respecting human rights: Enabling human progress begins with respecting human rights.

governance

Getting results the right way: Chevron is committed to strong governance and the highest standards of ethics.

Prioritizing our culture of operational excellence: We manage health, safety and environmental risks.

Operating safely and reliably: We keep our people, our partners and the environment safe.

industry-specific reporting

Our data from 2018 reflect the progress we've made in our environmental, health and safety, and social performance. We follow IPIECA/API/IOGP* oil and gas industry guidance on voluntary sustainability reporting. For 2018, Chevron reported on all 34 indicators. Read the IPIECA/API/IOGP content index

*IPIECA (the global oil and gas industry association for environmental and social issues)/American Petroleum Institute/International Association of Oil & Gas Producers.

environmental indicators

health and safety indicators

social and economic indicators

additional ESG reporting

Chevron believes that environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance is important to our success and long-term viability. We continuously strive to enhance our communication with stakeholders on ESG matters and improve our ESG performance.

To find additional ESG data and reports, please visit our ESG information center

reports from around the world

Angola

view report about Angola >

Latin America

view report about Latin America >

Nigeria

view report about Nigeria >

Chevron in Appalachia

view report about Appalachia >

Gulf of Mexico

view report about the Gulf of Mexico >

U.S. Mid-Continent

view report about the U.S. Mid-Continent >

downloads

> 2018 Annual Report

> 2018 Corporate Responsibility Report

> The Chevron Way - English

> 2018 Corporate Responsibility Report Performance Data

links

- > Request a printed copy of our reports
- > Learn more about our Corporate Responsibility activities and results
- > Provide feedback on our Corporate Responsibility Report and website
- > CR Report archive