Minimum Batch at Origin

Petrochemical Products will be accepted for transportation at the point of origin in quantities of not less than five thousand (5,000) barrels from one Shipper, for any one commodity of quality and specifications as described herein.

Minimum Delivery at Destination

Carrier will deliver all or part of any shipment of Petrochemical Products at any destination provided that the quantity of Petrochemical Products of the same specification delivered to Shipper or one Consignee at any destination is not less than two thousand five hundred (2,500) barrels.

Origin and Destination Facilities

Petrochemical Products will be accepted for transportation only when Shipper has provided equipment and facilities satisfactory to Carrier at both the origin and destination points. Shipper’s pumping pressures and rates must meet Carrier’s requirements. Carrier may require satisfactory evidence that the necessary facilities are available at origin and destination before Carrier is obligated to accept tenders for transportation.

Measurement

All shipments tendered to the Carrier for transportation shall be tested, gauged or metered by a representative of Carrier prior to, or at the time of Receipt or Delivery. The Shipper or Consignee shall at all times have the privilege of being present or represented during the testing, gauging or metering. Quantities shall be corrected as to temperature from observed temperature to sixty degrees (60°F) Fahrenheit basis by use of applicable API-ASTM volume correction factor tables, deductions may be made for inherent system losses, water and other impurities in Petrochemical Products received or delivered, and the resulting balance will be the quantity deliverable by the Carrier.

Product Temperature

The maximum temperature of any Petrochemical Products accepted for transportation will be one hundred and twenty degrees (120°F) Fahrenheit.

Overages and Shortages

In systems with one Shipper, overages and shortages will be the sole responsibility of the Shipper. In systems with two or more Shippers, the following procedures will apply.

At the end of each year, Carrier will calculate the total system overage or shortage by product type. If the system overage exceeds the established measurement tolerance, Carrier shall invoice Shipper for its proportional share of volume outside the measurement tolerance. If the system shortage exceeds the established measurement tolerance, Carrier will reimburse Shipper for its proportional share of volume outside measurement tolerance.

Settlement of any proportional share of volume will be based on the twelve month average of the monthly average value of Petrochemical Products at the point where transportation originated, as quoted in an industry-accepted price service selected by Carrier.
